1875 Atlas reprint RESIDENCE OF PETER SHAFOR, LIBERTY TOWNSHIP, BUTLER COUNTY, OHIO.

These breed of cattle, according to the best information that we can obtain, originated in the lowlands of Scotland, in the northwestern part of what was known as the ancient province or kingdom of Galloway. They are hardier and more healthy, tough and hardy, and well adapted to the soil than any other breeds of cattle would be. It is said that by crossing them with short-horn or other animals may be produced which will give with great rapidity, and with little loss, giving animals of the age of two or three years. The Galloway cow won the first prize for all breeds at the Southfield Christmas Show last year, beating short-horn, Hereford, and Devon.
